Hospitality House helping families stay close to loved ones

Families and caregivers of critically ill or injured patients at The Medical Center or Commonwealth Regional Specialty Hospital now have an option for temporary housing close to the hospital. In January, the Hospitality House opened on The Medical Center campus across from Rosewood Health Center and is already making an impact on the lives of families dealing with difficult times.

The 12 private guestroom, private bath facility offers the comforts of home and allows family members and caregivers to stay close to their loved ones. The Hospitality House features a large kitchen and dining room to accommodate multiple families, a prayer room, a community room with comfortable furnishings, and a business center with computers and internet access.

In addition to family members of critically ill patients, patients receiving intensive therapeutic care are also eligible to stay at the Hospitality House. There is not a charge to stay at the house; however, donations to help support the operation of the Hospitality House are gratefully accepted.

Family members of hospital inpatients or patients receiving certain intensive outpatient therapies will be evaluated for temporary housing at the Hospitality House. Each situation will be looked at individually.
